Re: County enforcement of VZD rules

I have spoken recently with some of you re: the importance (and difficulties) of establishing effective county enforcement of VZDs. Several months ago I submitted to Tristan Riddell a list of about 5 questions that I felt required answers concerning enforcement and the possible detrimental effects of non-enforcement.

In a recent conversation with one of you, it was mentioned that making VZDs more easily adoptable was a potential early agenda item for you, and the importance of enforcement as a corollary subject was discussed.

I contacted Tristan Riddell, as requested, to be sure that enforcement was on your agenda.

How may I learn of the results of your deliberations concerning this subject? Were my questions to Riddell (which he said required attention by the county attorney) addressed?

A response by e-mail would be appreciated since I am rarely accessible by phone.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Ron Kramis
